

GSK DAYS ARE HERE

MAY 6TH

JOHN PEACE LIBRARY • ASSEMBLY ROOM (JPL 4.04.22)
UTSA MAIN CAMPUS, ONE UTSA CIRCLE, SAN ANTONIO, TX 78249

GlaxoSmithKline is looking for research and development partners in the academic and biotech communities. Company executives are focusing on Texas as the right place to connect with scientists and others who share a vision of improving peoples' lives via breakthrough science.

WHAT ARE GSK DAYS?

Texas FreshAIR is facilitating a series of exclusive meetings to foster communications and launch mutually beneficial partnerships involving GSK, faculty from the University of Texas System and other Texas institutions, and companies from the San Antonio area.

GSK will invite select faculty and life science companies who are advancing new programs in the following areas:

Respiratory, Infectious disease, Immuno-inflammation, Immuno-oncology, Dermatology, Orphan diseases, Metabolic pathways, Neuroscience, Cardiovascular, and Bioelectronics.

GSK will consider opportunities outside of these specialties if they target areas of high unmet need.

HOW DO I GET A MEETING?

Faculty: Submit a one-page summary of research with potential commercial impact to the Texas FreshAIR SharePoint site by April 17th, 2015. Visit texasfreshair.org for additional instructions.
