

LEARN TO DO QUAD CHARTS

10:00 am - 11:30am | Thursday, October 12, 2023

VIA TEAMS

Please join Faculty Research Development for a workshop on Quad Charts led by Michelle Atchison, Senior National Security Strategist, REDKE.

A Quad Chart presents a brief visual overview of your proposal across four quadrants of a single slide. Quad Charts are used by DOD for a variety of planning and communication purposes. Some DOD components, like DARPA, require a Quad Chart as part of their submissions. When requesting a meeting with an agency representative, sending a Quad Chart along with the meeting request is useful. This allows the agency to prepare for the meeting and to have lasting information about you and your innovation after the meeting. Please complete the short registration form below and the Teams link will be emailed to you.

Please contact Jessica Vela, jessica.vela@utsa.edu, for more information.
